

Morning Review

Good morning! Dear students and partners. A friendly reminder: there are less than three days left until the "Golden Friday" trading signal! For those who haven't prepared yet, please contact me as soon as possible. I have already crafted the trading strategy for you, and we are now in the final sprint before setting up the trading signal! Please take this seriously!

Today, I will be providing live trading signals for the cryptocurrency market. Keep an eye on the updates in your respective teams. Let's get ready to achieve our ninth victory in the 20 win streak!

Currently, the U.S. stock market is awaiting the FOMC meeting minutes and Powell's speech at Jackson Hole to gain further clues about the Fed's rate cuts. We know for certain that the market's expectation for a rate cut is 100%, and that's precisely what the funds are speculating on. Therefore, any statements regarding rate cuts will quickly ignite the market, causing significant volatility.

If the outcome meets expectations and the rate cut is confirmed, we may see a "sell the news" reaction, leading to a drop in stock indices. If the outcome fails to meet expectations, the funds that have been speculating are likely to panic and exit the market rapidly with a sense of disappointment, which could easily trigger a stampede. Once a stampede occurs, a sharp decline in the indices is almost inevitable. Only if the news exceeds expectations will the market be invigorated, allowing the stock market to continue its upward momentum. Thus, the indices are currently teetering on a very dangerous edge, with the probability of a downturn far outweighing the chances of a rally.

This year's Jackson Hole Economic Symposium is themed "Reevaluating the Effectiveness and Transmission of Monetary Policy." The symposium is expected to take a retrospective approach to this topic.

A key highlight of the event will be Powell's speech on the economic outlook. Currently, interest rates are between 5.25% and 5.5%. Since March 2022, the Fed has raised rates 11 times, with the rate level remaining unchanged since July 2023.

FB Finance Institute - 15th Session

Although many financial institutions and analysts expect a rate cut in September, the key issue for the stock indices is no longer whether the Fed will cut rates, but by how many basis points and whether there will be further cuts in late 2024. In other words, the market's appetite has grown; if expectations are not met, a decline is likely. Therefore, I recommend selling stocks now and waiting until the shoes drop before I develop a trading plan for you.

Because right now, you have a better option! It doesn't matter whether you currently have a cryptocurrency account or whether your account has funds. What matters is that you've found me. With less than three days until "Golden Friday," you still have time to prepare. This opportunity is expected to bring us a single trade profit of 300% to 1000%—a super opportunity.

Clearly, this level of profit is something the current stock market

cannot offer. Moreover, the stock indices are fraught with significant risks. When choosing between the two, the stock market might trap your funds, while cryptocurrency contracts offer a chance to double your investment. The choice is obvious.

So, let's take the funds out of the stock market and follow me to trade "Golden Friday." Once the stock market presents a better opportunity, we'll seize it then. My strategy is like AlphaGo playing Go—while you're considering the immediate profits and risks, I've already planned a more distant future for you.

Another great option is to invest in quality ICO/IDO projects—something every investor loves. But what's the logic behind it? Have you ever thought about why companies need to go public? Let me break it down:

Companies go public through an IPO to raise more funds for growth. These funds are used to expand the business, develop new products, pay off debt, or make other key moves. It's like how we issued the academy token to fund the development of the AI 4.0 system. Typically, when a top-notch company successfully goes public, they can make in one day what it would take them ten years to earn under normal growth! That's why quality IPO projects are often highly favored by investors.

High quality ICO/IDO projects are essentially the same as stock market IPOs; there's no difference. We are about to embark on a remarkable journey because this is a critical period and an ideal time for many quality ICO projects to launch. Recently, I've learned that several high quality ICO projects are coming to market soon. I will thoroughly analyze the white papers, prepare strategies, and lead you to low risk, or even risk free, opportunities to multiply your returns.

When comparing these opportunities to the current stock market, do you find yourself leaning more towards my perspective?

Friends, often it's not that opportunities don't exist, but rather that we lack the insightful vision to recognize them. If you put a small fish and money in front of a cat, the cat will choose the fish, not realizing that the money could buy more fish. As investors, we must not be like the cat; we should always view things from a higher dimensional perspective. Therefore, I suggest everyone sell their stocks and join my team. If we're going to play, let's play in the best market!

Congratulations to friends in our Wizard team! Bitcoin just experienced a massive price swing, and through our quick in and out short term strategy, we successfully made a significant profit in the cryptocurrency market in just about ten minutes! Our overall returns have once again surpassed Mr. B's! As you can see, my trading strategy is like the Rhine River—never running dry, always providing stable trading signals and consistent profits for our team members!

Without realizing it, we've already secured our ninth victory! Does 20 straight wins still seem far off to you? Friends, please vote for me, and invite your friends to join my team. I will continue to bring you more high quality services.

Many of you might be curious about how I've developed such sharp instincts in the market. The reason is simple: experience. For me, the failures and pains I've endured in investing have become catalysts for refining my skills, knowledge, and strategies. Once you've gone through it, you'll understand its significance. We are all creators of our own destiny, and by joining my team and following my lead, you'll experience a comprehensive enhancement.

1. Technical and Mental Growth, I'll help you become an exceptional trader.
2. Profit Growth, I'll assist you in achieving your profit goals, allowing you to obtain the material life you desire.

FB Finance Institute - 15th Session

3. Spiritual Growth, material enjoyment is temporary, but the spirit is the engraving of the soul.

This afternoon, the cane wielding shark, Mr. B, will present his insights. In this "Clash of the Century" at the Institute, I have complete confidence in myself and in the execution power of everyone in our Wizard team. Our returns will undoubtedly sink Mr. B's ship. Let's conquer everything in this investment feast and enjoy the fruits of victory!

Don't forget about Mr. B's session this afternoon. Let's watch together and see how the shark plans to escape our giant fishing net!

Hey, traders and thrill seekers, good afternoon!

“Simplifying investments, enhancing the quality of life of countless families”—that’s our motto. I’m Richard Bill, carrying the torch of Prof. Clark’s legacy, fueled by the pioneering spirit of AI 4.0, and driven by an unstoppable determination to become the next Chief Practical Instructor. Your unwavering support means the world to me!

The recent market? It's like the eerie calm before a wild storm hits—my comments from yesterday are still spot on. Team W? Yeah, they're starting to move—they've caught the scent of rising volatility. I've checked their performance, but honestly, there's nothing impressive there.

Today, I'm going all out to find a rock solid opportunity to increase our position and leave them floundering like they've been tossed into the Atlantic! That's our top priority today. Stay sharp—I might drop a trading signal or an update in the group at any second, or I'll find another way to get the word out.

Today, we're tackling some straight up explosive topics: nailing the α & β strategy to take over the market; hammering home why what we're doing right now is crucial, and locking in on BTC's recent moves that could set off a massive explosion. Ready to dive deep and unleash some game changing insights with me? Hit that vote, back me up, and let's rip open this wild ride to wealth, folks!

Listen up, folks! I've laid it all out there—my four core α & β strategies, no holds barred. But have you really gotten it? These strategies don't just work for crypto; they're killers in gold, stocks, and the dollar markets too. Remember how we used these strategies to spot opportunities in the crypto market by comparing it with assets like the dollar? Sharp, right?

Now, check this out: the indices took a dive recently but bounced back in a V-shape. Meanwhile, the gains we've racked up through crypto contracts? At least 8 times those of the indices. And soon, you're gonna see the returns on the assets we've picked possibly blow the index rebound out of the water—10x, 20x, maybe even 30x more.

Let's get real: if you're still holding onto stocks, the gap between our returns and yours is gonna hit you like a ton of bricks. But there's still time to wake up.

Yesterday, I sounded the alarm—shrinking volume on the indices? That's a fake out. Prices are near the resistance line, and the MACD's positive values are shrinking fast. Prices have strayed way too far from the MA13/34/55—it's primed for a pullback. How intense it'll be depends on what's coming down the pike, but make no mistake, there are landmines ahead. Are you really ready to charge in recklessly?

Take a look at VIX (Volatility Index), folks—also known as the "Fear Index." This is the market's panic barometer. When fear ramps up, the VIX shoots through the roof, and investors start dumping stocks. It's as simple as that.

Now, in my playbook, “The Most Efficient Buying/Selling Point Strategies,” here's how the magic happens: When the MA34/55 lines are in a bullish alignment, the MA13 dips down, and then starts climbing back up near the MA34. If you see a big green candle break above or hold steady above the MA13, and the MACD's DEA/DIF lines form a bullish crossover—that's your buy signal right there.

Check out this chart, folks—this kind of pattern can show up in as little as three to five days, or it might take up to two weeks, but it's coming. With the global central bank economic conference about to shake things up and the September rate cut looming, fear is about to spike again. The market's next wave of panic is already brewing, just like I warned about the indices.

So, are you really ready to keep clutching those stocks? Or are you holding onto a ticking time bomb?

Alright, folks, why hasn't BTC skyrocketed yet? Before the next big crypto wave hits, you've got to understand this one absolutely crucial factor. Listen up, because this is the real deal!

The real key here is whether institutions and big money investors are going to fully dive into the crypto market. This is way more important than presidential elections, congressional debates, or even technical trends.

Why is this so critical? Just look at the numbers. The majority of global assets are controlled by professionals. Institutions hold sway over 80% of the securities market. But in the crypto space, their presence is barely a drop in the bucket. The most extreme estimates suggest that institutions might control only 10% of the total Bitcoin supply.

Now, imagine this: if institutions decided to grab 50% of the market, they'd need to buy up roughly $500 billion worth of Bitcoin. That would completely change the game, sending Bitcoin's price soaring into the stratosphere.

So, will they buy?

Here's the scoop: After the Bitcoin ETFs hit the market, the SEC requires institutions to disclose their ETF holdings quarterly through the 13F form. With the latest Q2 2024 13F filings just released last week, we can now answer that question.

I've dug deep into the expert and advisor data provided by Prof. Clark's AI4.0 system, and here's the big takeaway: Institutions continued buying Bitcoin ETFs in the second quarter.

Despite Bitcoin's 12% price drop in Q2 2024, there were concerns about whether institutional investors would back off. The answer? Absolutely not.

Listen up, folks—this is absolutely explosive news! The data is downright jaw dropping: The number of institutions holding Bitcoin ETFs skyrocketed by 14%, jumping from 965 to 1,100. Their share of total assets under management (AUM) in Bitcoin ETFs also surged from 18.74% to 21.15% (with retail investors still holding 79%). By the end of the quarter, institutions held a staggering $11 billion worth of Bitcoin ETFs.

Here's the kicker: In Q2, 112 investors who held Bitcoin ETFs in Q1 bailed out, but 247 brand new players jumped in. That means Bitcoin ETFs gained a net 135 new institutional investors!

This is massive. If institutions are piling into Bitcoin even with the wild price swings, you better brace yourself for what happens when the bull market really kicks off. This is the kind of frenzy that's going to supercharge the crypto world like never before! Simply put, institutional investment is like slow cooked BBQ—they take their time building up their positions. I've been in the ETF and Treasury game for years, and I've seen countless ETFs roll out. From what I've observed, most ETF holdings grow gradually: the first year is usually a "wait and see," but by the second, third, and fourth years, things really start to ramp up.

Bitcoin ETFs are no different. Major institutions are just beginning to open the floodgates to Bitcoin ETFs (Morgan Stanley gave them the green light earlier this month). I'd bet that the inflows into Bitcoin ETFs in 2025 will dwarf those in 2024, and 2026 will blow past 2025. Institutions are diving in headfirst, and the scale is only getting bigger.

As Prof. Clark mentioned, we might soon see BTC smash through $350,000 in this bull run. So, while you're still wondering why Bitcoin hasn't taken off yet, institutions are quietly stacking their BTC holdings. When you hesitate and doubt, Bitcoin could be ready to launch. Is now the time to dive into the crypto waters? Because the big party is already underway, and the main players are sneaking in on submarines—don't miss it!

Alright, folks, now that we've wrapped our heads around these key factors, it's time to seize the moment and maximize our profits. Whether you're backing me or Team W, the focus here is on your wallet and the AI4.0 presale—that's our shared future.

Here's the game plan: This week, my goal is to double our account balance, ideally in just one trade.

This is totally within our reach. But if you haven't signed on with us yet, I can't promise you'll see those gains, and here's why: First, time's ticking, and our window of opportunity is narrowing; second, we need to ensure the AI4.0 presale is a success. The commissions in our Strategic Partnership Plan (ranging from 5% to 20% of net profits) are crucial for securing those presale subscriptions.

FB Finance Institute - 15th Session

Prof. Clark once said that we'll be using a marketing strategy similar to cryptocurrency halvings. Take the AI4.0 institutional edition (priced at $1 million annually) as an example: If we sell 1,000 units by 2025, that's $1 billion in revenue. In 2026, we sell 500 units, and in 2027, just 250 units. What do you think will happen? Its value is bound to skyrocket, just like BTC!

So, whether you're using the institutional edition or the personal one, the fewer users, the higher our core profits. And the institute's future valuation will soar—listing on Nasdaq will no longer be just a dream!

So, folks, the internal testing, promotion, and presale of the AI4.0 system are exactly why we're globally offering this free insider sharing session. After six years of relentless effort by Prof. Clark's team, the AI4.0 system isn't just ready—it's a game changer.

This is our golden opportunity to win it all, and that's why we're confident enough to roll out these bold profit and partnership plans!

And let me tell you, the AI4.0 system isn't just for the crypto market—it's a powerhouse for every market out there. The data speaks for itself—our Strategic Partner Plan is all about accelerating its launch, getting you front row seats to its groundbreaking debut. We're going all in, no holding back!

So, when the AI4.0 presale kicks off, don't be surprised if by November you've not only secured your ticket into the AI4.0 system but also stepped right into the elite circle of the AI Foundation.

Alright, folks, let's cut to the chase. By now, you should have a crystal clear understanding of just how crucial the Strategic

FB Finance Institute - 15th Session

Partner Plan is. Once we nail this, the presale will practically run itself, right?

So, what are the perks of the presale?

- ~ Secure Early Users: Lock in a stable user base ahead of time.
- ~ Funding Support: Gather funds before the official launch to fuel development and operations.
- ~ Early Feedback: Encourage user participation, boost interaction, and build a solid reputation.
- ~ Market Validation: Gauge demand and buying intent, providing critical support for our market strategy.
- ~ Boost Exposure: Increase product visibility and market buzz, attracting even more users.

Success is the only option. Prof. Clark has entrusted us with this mission, a huge vote of confidence in our abilities! So, understanding the importance and urgency of the Strategic Partner Plan is absolutely vital. To sum it up: We're not just prepping for a presale—we're laying the groundwork for massive success. It's time to take action!

Folks, this is why we're out here fighting on the front lines. Sure, today's trade brought in some hefty profits, but what you don't see is the countless hours we spend glued to the charts and data. Even for a seasoned "arrogant sailor" like me in the crypto seas, it takes every ounce of focus to ensure victory and maximize profits!

Today's success is just the beginning. What's our goal? To double our total assets in a single trade and leave Team W drifting somewhere in the Atlantic!

So, what's next? We're going to take half of today's contract trading profits and channel them into buying institute tokens (another way to support the AI4.0 system) and investing in high yield 90 day financial products, building ourselves a rock solid financial pyramid!

Now, let's get into today's interactive Q&A:

~ Are you ready to double your profits this week?

FB Finance Institute - 15th Session

we help?

~ Why are institutions creeping up on BTC like a submarine ready to join the party? What opportunities does this present, and how should we act?

~ Why is my competition with Mr. W and the Strategic Partner Plan so crucial to the AI4.0 system's presale?

That's it for today's session. Next up, let's go all in on the current profit plan (because the next opportunity to double our assets could drop at any moment), keep an eye on Team W's performance, and get ready to pounce on the upcoming premium IDO/ICO opportunities! See you tomorrow!
