

Morning Review

Dear friends, family members, and esteemed future investment masters,

Good morning!

Last week, our Strategic Partner Investment Cooperation Plan experienced a remarkable moment of triumph! By seizing high-quality IDO opportunities, not only did we take the lead, but we also outshone the stock market's downturn, bringing us substantial returns on our investments!

Even more exciting is the fact that a new chapter in the cryptocurrency bull market has begun, with premium IDOs being launched rapidly on the trading platform. QBL, this quantum technology super project, is about to take the stage. I firmly believe this is the perfect opportunity to open the door to wealth and achieve financial freedom. I'm fully prepared to go all out and secure the Green VIP Channel. Are you ready to join me in embracing this challenge?

If you are still caught up in the stock market's fluctuations and haven't realized the risks on the horizon; if you don't yet understand why high-quality IDOs are risk-free and high-return investment opportunities; if you haven't grasped the incredible advantages and expected profits we are about to gain; if your Strategic Partner Plan returns haven't yet hit 5x; if you're not aware of how crucial QBL's IDO is to our plan! Then bring your passion and insight and carefully read today's thoughts! This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to soar—don't miss it!

Dear friends,

AI 4.0

While for many, the stock market remains a primary battleground, with significant time and effort invested, it's time to face an undeniable reality: despite some market rebounds, the stock indices are beginning to waver. In early August, concerns about an impending recession caused a sharp market drop. While the indices have since recovered somewhat, they have not fully stabilized.

The current risk lies heavily in tech stocks, particularly $NVDA. Tech stocks have been the main drivers of the market, but if these stocks falter, the entire market could experience significant turbulence. Slowing economic growth, overvalued stocks, and the looming threat of a recession are all casting a shadow over market stability. These factors will inevitably lead to heightened market volatility.

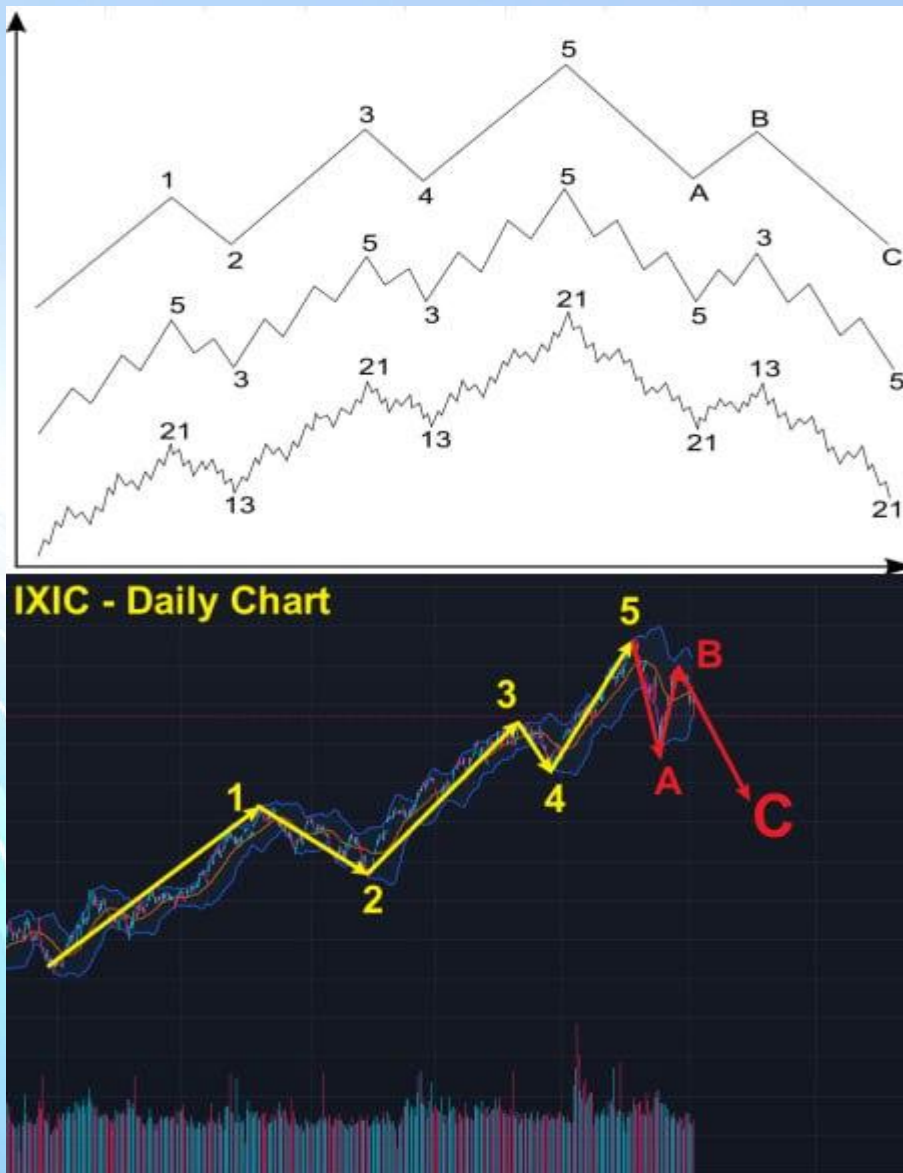

What's worse is the uncertainty surrounding the upcoming election, political turmoil in Europe, and the overconcentration of funds in large-cap tech stocks. These elements could further disrupt market sentiment. Valuation bubbles and shifts in options trading could contribute to even greater instability, potentially triggering a massive "risk avalanche."

It is now time to take these risks seriously. Don't let the surface-level rebound deceive you. A market storm lies ahead, and we must remain vigilant. The best course of action is to carefully optimize your investment portfolio in preparation for the challenges to come.

Last Friday, I introduced the idea that the stock index is likely to break below the early August lows, which sparked lively discussion. To better understand this, we can visualize the process using simple wave theory:

Wave 1: Bull market initiation.

Wave 2: Profit-taking, slight pullback.

Wave 3: Main upward phase of the bull market.

Wave 4: Mid-term investors exit early.

Wave 5: Market sentiment reaches a peak, accelerating the rise.

Wave A: Downward movement begins, with volume divergence.

Wave B: Volume fails to increase significantly, signaling the best exit opportunity.

Wave C: Main downward phase, with strong declines, large drop, extended duration, and broad market sell-off.

Now, why must Point C fall below Point A? Because the main downward phase is just beginning! If you haven't acted yet, this is still the best time to sell. Remember, this decline could last until the end of the year, meaning there are at least three and a half months of downward pressure ahead.

In three and a half months, we will be inviting outstanding participants to the global launch of the Ai4.0 system. By then, don't say you didn't heed today's advice, leading to further stock market losses, and don't regret not fully committing to the Strategic Partner Plan and taking advantage of the current prime period for IDO issuance opportunities!

FB Finance Institute - 15th Session

Dear friends,

The success of BCX has ignited a frenzy among investors for premium IDO opportunities, and QBL has emerged as the focal point of this enthusiasm. With its boundless potential in quantum technology, a lower issuance price than BCX, a longer IDO cycle, and mechanisms that attract large investors, QBL's profitability is poised to surpass that of BCX!

On the first day of QBL's online subscription, the progress bar astonishingly surpassed 200%! This level of excitement is staggering, even outpacing BCX at the same stage.

Now, are you feeling the thrill of this surge? What have you learned from your investment in BCX? The rapid rise of the progress bar signals a risk-free, golden opportunity!

Top-tier IDOs are always the superstars of cryptocurrency bull markets, and their scarcity and substantial returns make them irresistible. The progress bar breaking through 100% during the

FB Finance Institute - 15th Session

IDO subscription phase means that the funds involved have far exceeded expectations, indicating that the project's fundraising has been a tremendous success.

Next, the exciting moment for QBL is upon us! If we compare it to BCX's online subscription phase—where the progress bar reached approximately 220% by the end of the first day—QBL, with 11 more days to go, is on track to easily surpass 1000%. This strongly indicates that an opening price above $40 is almost a certainty!

Imagine a no-risk investment return of over 10 times, with an investment cycle lasting just two weeks. Your initial capital will determine your final return, and whether or not you secure the green VIP channel will be the critical factor in unlocking explosive profits.

For instance, if you invest $10,000 without securing the green VIP channel, your allocation might be less than 10%, yielding a maximum profit of $10,000, for a return of 100%.

However, if you invest $1 million and successfully secure the green VIP channel, your allocation will reach 100%, and your minimum profit will soar to $10 million, representing an astounding 1000% return!

The difference in returns is a staggering 1000fold!

So, why is the green VIP channel so important? Can we successfully obtain it? What challenges are we facing? And how can we ensure that we secure this VIP access? These are the core issues I am working tirelessly to resolve. Do you understand the significance now?

Dear friends,

In last Friday's review, I pointed out our shortcomings when dealing with these no-risk investment projects. Have you noticed that the allocation ratios for those who obtained the green channel reached 100% in the allocation screenshots?

And what about our own allocation ratios? Can you feel the difference in the 2-5x returns? The same time commitment, the same project, yet such a significant gap in returns—this is not the result we aspire to, is it?

Now, let's calmly analyze how we can secure the Green VIP Channel to ensure we are in the most favorable position for the next project. In IPO/ICO/IDO projects, obtaining a green channel or VIP access typically requires one of the following qualifications:

1. Institutional Investors: Large hedge funds, private equity funds, and venture capital firms, due to their substantial financial resources and strong investment capabilities, often receive priority allocation.

2. High Net-Worth Individuals: Wealthy individuals who can provide significant investment are also likely to receive priority.

3. Early Supporters: Individuals or institutions who have made notable contributions to the project in its early stages are often granted priority allocation.

4. Strategic Partners: Companies or organizations with a strategic relationship with the project are given priority due to the value of their collaboration.

5. Market Influence: Investors or thought leaders with significant influence in the relevant field may receive priority for their ability to attract additional market attention and promotion for the project.

Understanding how to secure the Green VIP Channel is crucial, and we must actively pursue these opportunities to ensure we don't miss out on future projects. So, can we obtain the Green VIP Channel? After an objective assessment, we possess several significant advantages:

1. Strategic Partnership

Our Institute is a strategic partner of the exchange where our tokens were issued. This partnership grants us a unique position in the market.

2. Early Investors

In BCX, we made substantial contributions and achieved returns well above market averages because of our significant involvement in the token's online subscription. As early supporters, this strengthens our case for securing the Green VIP Channel.

3. Investment Experience and Capital Strength

In BCX, many of us didn't go all-in, primarily due to a lack of understanding of high-quality IDO projects. Now, we fully grasp the “no-risk, high-return, short-cycle” nature of these investments.

If we commit fully, combined with the profits already gained from BCX, our fund pool will expand significantly, positioning us as a "high net worth investment group," which is a core reason and bargaining chip for acquiring the Green VIP Channel.

4. Market Influence

With our Institute’s large membership, our market influence has become substantial. The exchange and QBL’s issuer will undoubtedly recognize our importance in the market.

Considering these factors, if we go all-in, securing the Green VIP Channel becomes highly probable. Do you feel the same urgency and excitement as I do? This is the pivotal moment for seizing a huge opportunity—do you agree?

As we approach the upcoming opportunities, we must also honestly face the challenges that lie ahead:

- Intensified Competition: The success of BCX and the promising outlook of QBL have undoubtedly attracted many high-caliber investors. While this brings more profit potential to QBL, it also means we are up against stronger competitors. Their growing strength highlights the need for us to redouble our efforts to secure a position in this competitive landscape.

- Insufficient Fund Pool: One of the main reasons we missed the Green VIP Channel for BCX was the inadequacy of our fund pool, compounded by the lack of active participation from some members. This cost us the massive opportunity we deserved. Our competitors are becoming more formidable, and to close this gap and secure our advantage, we need to work even harder together.

Our action plan moving forward is as follows:

1. Sell BCX Tokens and Fully Commit to QBL Online Subscription: We need to act swiftly by selling BCX tokens and increasing our capital investment to ensure we seize the opportunity in the QBL online subscription. By leveraging both time and financial advantages, we will secure a higher allocation than other participants!

2. Focus Entirely on the QBL Project: To ensure the best positioning in the QBL project, we will pause contract trading starting this week and focus all our efforts on QBL's risk-free, high-reward online subscription. This is our moment to go all in!

3. Collective Effort: I will continue deep discussions with the exchange and QBL issuers to secure our 100% access to the Green VIP Channel. This is a critical step towards our success.

Friends, only by combining our vision with decisive action, and belief with effort, can we truly achieve our goals. Let's work together, face the challenges head-on, and seize the opportunities in front of us.

Dear friends, family, and esteemed future investment masters,

The questionnaire results from last Friday revealed some concerning issues: some of our members' returns have fallen far short of expectations. For those whose total asset return is below 5x, the QBL online subscription is your one and only path to a breakthrough!

This isn't just a golden moment for personal growth—it's the key opportunity for our collective success! Since we launched the Strategic Partner Investment Cooperation Plan on August 4th, our aim has been to build a loyal base of supporters before the Ai4.0 investment system launches. This base will play a vital role in supporting the market value management of our institute tokens, Ai4.0's market promotion, pre-sale, regional agency plan, and eventual listing.

Let's face the facts: the Future Leaders 200% Profit Plan has already provided a solid foundation for stable growth, and the Strategic Partner Plan is steadily guiding us toward a 300%-1000% total asset return. Right now, high-quality IDO projects like QBL are our "jetpack" to achieve "risk-free" wealth acceleration—propelling us to new heights!

At this moment, we stand before an unprecedented opportunity. Let's embrace the challenge, move forward courageously, and seize every chance to double our wealth. Act now, and leave no room for regret!

In our shared journey, each person's path is unique, filled with individual stories and challenges. Like mountaineers confronting towering peaks, some may feel fatigue during the climb, while others soar like arrows piercing the clouds.

At this pivotal moment, QBL's IDO stands like a beacon at the summit, radiating brilliance, guiding us beyond the established goal of a 300%-1000% return for our strategic partners!

FB Finance Institute - 15th Session

With this momentum, the vision of achieving 10x profits is steadily becoming a reality—within reach and closer than ever.

I encourage every companion on this journey: elevate your ambitions, take bolder strides, and follow the strategies I've shared with precision.

And if a fog of uncertainty ever clouds your way, remember, I'm always here. My door is open, and I'm ready to walk this path with you, side by side.

As we step into the final stage of our Strategic Partnership Plan, I am confident that each of you has surpassed the limits you once set for yourselves. What we hold in our hands now is not just financial wealth, but a brand-new way of life.

Imagine this: waking up to an endless view of the ocean, sunlight spilling over the fine sand of your private beach; driving a luxurious Rolls-Royce along the coast, savoring every moment of freedom; owning your own private yacht and plane, making the Pacific and Atlantic coasts your personal playground, and turning the world into your backyard. These dreams are becoming a reality within our reach!

This is not merely a symbol of financial freedom, but the result of our wisdom and perseverance, as we redefine our quality of life and vision for the future. We haven't just secured our past achievements—we've solidified our dreams and goals for what lies ahead.

The meaning of life isn't found in its length, but in our ability to make every moment extraordinary. Let's continue to walk this path together, embracing the bright future filled with hope and opportunity! We are ready for it all—are you?

Dear friends, family, and future investment masters,

We stand at a historic moment, filled with excitement as what once seemed like distant luxuries are now becoming part of our everyday lives. We are no longer just holders of wealth but winners in life, experiencing a deep sense of fulfillment and satisfaction.

On this journey to success, we not only seek financial growth but yearn for the freedom to live on our own terms. Together, let's continue to walk this path and create a future filled with endless possibilities, making each day extraordinary!

Our rallying call has sounded—it's time for QBL's IDO. You, the outstanding individuals, have the chance not only to become owners of the Ai4.0 system but also to be part of the future AI Foundation, an exclusive elite club! As we approach the global launch of Ai4.0, I will be inviting top-performing students from this period to join us at an in-person seminar.

Closing Commentary

Good afternoon, dear students and partners! This is James Wilson. With the release of the iPhone 16, have you felt the allure of this new technology? In a rapidly changing market, staying on top of the latest trends is crucial, just like every decision we make in the financial markets.

Looking back, from our nine wins out of ten in the options market, to our 20 consecutive wins in cryptocurrency contracts, and my early warning about the end of the 2024 U.S. stock market bull run—my strategies have always been ahead of the market, precise and efficient. Last week, we successfully seized the BCX IDO subscription opportunity, executing a risk-free, certain, and high-return strategy, further validating my market insights.

FB Finance Institute - 15th Session

Because we've consistently stayed on the right path, last Friday I decisively led everyone to sell off BCX tokens and reinvest the funds to capitalize on the super non-farm payroll data. This not only helped us achieve short-term profits but also accumulated valuable capital for the upcoming QBL subscription project.

After a series of consecutive breakdowns, the U.S. stock market has experienced a technical oversold rebound. However, from a technical standpoint, the downtrend channel has already formed, and this rebound is merely a temporary correction in the broader decline. Therefore, now is actually a good time to sell stocks. The market still needs a prolonged period of consolidation to absorb the pressure from trapped positions, and a genuine trend reversal is unlikely before the Christmas season.

Next, let's move on to the analysis of popular stocks. First, NVIDIA is struggling with chip delays and slowing revenue growth, making it difficult to see significant short-term gains. The stock has entered an endless cycle of volatility. As for Apple, its stock typically rises before each product launch, but as the positive sentiment from the September product release gradually fades, Apple will likely enter a correction phase. It's foreseeable that September will be a challenging month for the big tech companies.

During the Jackson Hole symposium, the Federal Reserve sent an important signal—interest rate policy is gradually stepping away from the center stage, and the future of the U.S. stock market will be more reliant on economic fundamentals. However, the U.S. economy has already entered a recessionary cycle, and whether it can achieve a "soft landing" remains uncertain. Coupled with the uncertainty surrounding the U.S. presidential election, the market is facing increased pressure. Therefore, regardless of how the market fluctuates in the short term, this year's bull market can essentially be declared over.

It's important to note that the driving force behind U.S. stock market rallies has never been retail investors, but rather Wall Street's institutional players. Last week, a Goldman Sachs report made it clear that regardless of whether the market rebounds or adjusts in the short term, major institutional investors have already begun gradually selling off stocks. This suggests that the "September curse" could very well trigger a wave of concentrated sell-offs.

Given my previous points, is the future direction now clear to everyone?

At this moment, the rise and fall of the stock market no longer matter. The profit opportunities from cryptocurrency contracts are equally irrelevant. Because now, no opportunity compares to the profit potential of high-quality IDO projects. Ask yourself,

FB Finance Institute - 15th Session

whether it's stocks, options, contracts, or other financial derivatives, which of them offers the same combination of short cycle, high returns, and virtually no risk as a quality IDO?

Let me put it more plainly—what else, besides a high-quality IDO subscription project, is worth going all-in for without hesitation?

A screenshot of a mobile application interface for an Initial Offer (IDO) for QBL tokens. The page is titled 'Initial Offer' and has a back arrow on the top left. There are two tabs: 'Subscribe' (active) and 'Allocation'. Below the tabs are three sub-tabs: 'In Subscribe', 'My Subscriptions', and 'My Winnings'. The main content area shows the QBL logo and a 'Subscribe' button. Below this is a list of details: 'Subscription Start Time' (09/09/2024, 12 AM), 'Subscription End Time' (09/20/2024, 06 PM), and 'Winning Announcement Time' (09/21/2024, 02 PM). The 'Issuance Quantity' section shows a progress bar with the text '250590947.9825 / 120000000.00' and a blue pill containing '208.825789%'. A red arrow points to this section, which is also highlighted with a red box. Below the progress bar are 'Subscription Price' (3.8000 USDT), 'Subscription Lower Limit (Tokens)' (1000.00), and 'Subscription Upper Limit (Tokens)' (10000000.00). At the bottom, it says 'No more'.

Why am I so confident that the QBL project will surpass the profits of BCX?

Just look at the data: on the very first day of subscription, the QBL IDO progress bar has already exceeded 200%! As we all know, once the progress bar surpasses 100%, it means that entering the market at this point carries no risk. So, why am I so certain of QBL's potential for appreciation? Let's revisit the three key factors that determine the success of a high-quality IDO project:

First, real-world application: Only projects that create real demand can truly reflect the value of their tokens.

Second, unique technology: Projects with innovative technology tend to attract more capital.

Third, market timing: The success of an IDO is closely linked to market interest and trading volume.

QBL not only possesses all these advantages but, more importantly, quantum technology is extremely rare in the current market. This scarcity has driven the rapid progress of the QBL IDO, far outpacing the performance of BCX during the same period!

FB Finance Institute - 15th Session

Additionally, the QBL project boasts three major advantages that make me even more confident its profit potential will far surpass that of BCX!

First, lower issuance price than BCX: A lower entry barrier means it will attract more speculative capital, resulting in higher trading volume.

Second, longer subscription period than BCX: A longer subscription period gives more time to attract funds, increasing the potential for value appreciation.

Third, faster subscription speed than BCX: Compared to the same timeline, QBL surpassed the 200% progress mark much more quickly.

Based on the current subscription progress bar, QBL not only holds an advantage in issuance price and subscription period but is also seeing faster capital inflows. In sum, the profit potential for QBL is bound to exceed BCX. Given that QBL has already outperformed BCX in the same timeframe—and with a longer subscription period to boot—I conservatively estimate that QBL will deliver at least 1,000% in expected returns!

So, we must be clear about one thing: the QBL project is poised to bring us at least 1,000% profit potential—more than tenfold returns! Faced with such an opportunity, how should we choose? You must understand that life doesn't offer many chances to change your destiny. It's how we handle these opportunities that separates people into different paths. Some miss out and spend the rest of their lives in regret, while others seize the moment and completely transform their fate, achieving the redemption of their self-worth!

Dear friends, let me tell you—faced with a historic opportunity like this, what we need is not a cautious probe but an all-out strike! Will you continue drifting with the current in the years ahead, or will you grasp this opportunity, retire early, and realize your life's dreams?

I must now tell you a harsh truth—the QBL project is an opportunity to completely change your destiny. It will make some rise to great heights, while others may regret it for the rest of their lives. The dividing line between these outcomes is the acquisition of the green channel.

If you invest $10,000 but fail to secure the green channel, you might only get 10% of the allocation, earning $10,000 in profit. For most investors, doubling their money in two weeks is a dream come true, something others would envy. But you know that's far from enough! Because you understand, this isn't just a simple investment; it's an opportunity for risk-free returns over tenfold! It has the power to elevate you to a new social stratum and change your life's trajectory.

But if you dare to invest $1 million and successfully secure the green channel, you'll receive 100% of the allocation. The minimum profit? $10 million! Friends, this is no longer just a numerical difference—it's a chasm of destiny! As I've said before, how you approach an opportunity defines who you become, and it ultimately determines the path you will walk in life.

So, how can we secure the green channel?

Professor Clark has already engaged in deep discussions with the trading center and the QBL issuer, with a clear goal: to secure the green channel. Currently, the issuer has only shown initial interest, so the professor's work is extremely challenging, filled with obstacles. Based on the information I have, we face one major disadvantage—the fund pool is insufficient. This is due to three key reasons:

1. A small group of investors still clings to the belief that the U.S. stock market has room for growth and feels it's a pity to sell their holdings.
2. Some investors remain stuck in the contract trading mindset, believing contracts offer higher returns.
3. Most critically, a portion of people have not gone all-in, underestimating the historic opportunity presented by the IDO.

To this, I have only one thing to say: Professor Clark, Mr. B, and I have fully committed, and we are finding ways to increase our positions. Why? Because we cannot afford to miss this opportunity—we must secure the green channel!

By addressing these issues, we are certain to secure the green channel! We also possess advantages that others cannot match:

1. The trading center is a strategic partner of our institute. Do you remember? They provided us with test fund support.
2. We contributed to the successful listing of the BCX project, further expanding our market influence.
3. Our institute's token was first issued here, bringing even more traffic to the trading center.

Therefore, I firmly believe: if we resolve our own three issues, the green channel will undoubtedly be ours! I urge all friends to act immediately:

First, sell off your U.S. stocks. Honestly, does the rise or fall of the stock market still matter at this point?

FB Finance Institute - 15th Session

Second, stop contract trading. Time is of the essence, friends—only by entering early can we increase our allocation.

Finally, go all-in like I have—increase your investment intensity!

Deliver the full-force blow to QBL!
